INTERVENTIONS WITH URBAN POOR AND EXCLUDED COMMUNITIES

We currently partner with nine socially excluded communities in the South Zone of Madurai to address child rights violations and social exclusion. During the year, we worked in ten communities; however, due to challenges in community participation, we withdrew from Mettu Theru, Thiruparankundram. Children, parents, and alumni form a strong 'safety net' that continues to safeguard children and uphold their rights in critical situations within the family, school, community, and wider society.

CHILD EDUCATION AND DEVELOPMENT CENTRES

We operate ten Child Education and Development Centres within communities and nearby neighbourhoods, creating safe and supportive spaces for children. Each day, children attend structured study sessions where they complete homework, prepare for class tests, and receive guidance from our dedicated staff and volunteers. Beyond academics, the centres nurture holistic growth by engaging children in forums, training programmes, and workshops that develop both skills and confidence.

OPENING OF NEW CENTRE AT PANCHAYAT BOARD COLONY, AVANIYAPURAM

On 1st July 2024, we marked a significant milestone with the opening of our new centre at Panchayat Board Colony, Avaniyapuram. The centre was established to reach more children in need, particularly those from marginalized families in the community. It is envisioned as a hub for nurturing child rights, strengthening community participation, and empowering children to dream of a brighter future.

CHILDREN'S FORUMS

During the year, 14 children's forums remained active. Children become active members by paying a small subscription. Each forum elects a Head and a Secretary who serve as leaders for one year. The elected Heads represent their respective forums in the quarterly Children's Council meetings. In this way, leadership skills are nurtured among children from a very early age.

VIDIYAL CHILD RIGHTS MOVEMENT

AN ORGANIZATION OF CHILDREN LED BY CHILDREN FOR CHILDREN

M. Umadevi - President
M. Gopinath - Secretary

Members of the Managing Committee

K. Viswakavi
S. Meenakshi
M. Harshini
P. Jegadheeswaran

The Vidiyal Child Rights Movement (VCRM) was established in the Millennium Year 2000 as a child-led organization in Madurai. It emerged through the federation of children's forums formed across our operational areas. Guided by democratic principles, a 'Reservation Policy' ensures that both boys and girls share leadership roles equally. As a mark of our strong commitment to child participation, two representatives from VCRM take part in the meetings of the Managing Committee of Sakthi-Vidiyal.

CHILDREN'S COUNCIL

The Children's Council, the governing body of VCRM, meets once every quarter to review and plan the programmes and activities of the Movement. Representatives from all forums and groups take part in the Council, actively contributing to the decision-making process.

GENERAL BODY

The General Body of VCRM meets every six months to review the performance of its various forums, groups, and teams. It holds the authority to revoke representatives who do not discharge their duties effectively, while also appreciating those who perform well. These meetings reflect the spirit of participation, where even younger children confidently question older members and exercise their right to expression and decision-making. This practice nurtures accountability and democratic values among all children.

UNDERSTANDING VIDIYAL CHILD RIGHTS MOVEMENT

Every year, the elected leaders of VCRM undergo an orientation programme to learn about and understand the Children's Movement. This year, the orientation was organized on 17.07.2024 and 26.08.2024, enabling the children to gain a thorough understanding of the Movement and to set clear goals for their leadership roles.

Children joined 75 Grama Sabai meetings and submitted 33 petitions, of which 14 led to real changes - better roads, repaired streetlights, desilted water tanks, safer wiring, CCTV for child safety, drinking water, and functional libraries. Their voices are being heard, and their participation is making communities safer and stronger.

DOOR-TO-DOOR CHILD RIGHTS CAMPAIGN

Children from all 12 centres actively engaged the community by sharing QR-coded stickers that link to a video on our Vidiyal Madurai YouTube channel, making learning about Child Rights fun and interactive, and reaching a total of 1,277 people.

The bus library, set up inside a bus, has become a special space where children discover the joy of reading. Throughout the year, children from different forums visited it regularly, engaging with books and stories with great enthusiasm.

On 28th May 2024, members of the library management team had an enriching experience of visiting the Kalaingar Centenary Library, where they explored a vast collection of books and enjoyed reading in a larger setting.

CHILDHOOD MATTERS: A COLLABORATIVE SOCIAL AUDIT WITH CHILDREN

Sakthi-Vidiyal facilitated a participatory social audit with children. On 20th April 2024, children brainstormed topics and finalised "Child Rights Implementation in Communities" and "Right to Education". On 25th – 26th April, orientation and workshops led by Mr. G. Ganesan and Mr. D. Arockiam introduced social audits through interactive sessions, games, and roleplays. Children framed questions and developed audit tools. On 6th October, Dr. C. Jim Jesudoss trained them in listening, probing, and observation. From 6th–26th October, a total of 41 children from both urban and rural VCRM conducted audits in communities and schools, and on 27th October, they shared their experiences. Mr.S.Anil Godwin Kumar oversaw data analysis.

The process showcased meaningful child participation, building confidence, agency, and leadership to influence change for a just society.

COORDINATION COMMITTEE MEETING

On 26th March 2025, Dr. Sharmila Jim attended the Coordination Committee Meeting on the effective functioning of Child Care Institutions, organised by the District Child Protection Unit (DCPU) and chaired by the District Collector.

CASE STUDY

Maniraj (name changed to protect identity), an 11-year-old boy, lost his father in an accident, leaving his mother to care for him and a newborn sibling amidst severe hardship. He became involved in theft and disruptive behaviour, which led to legal intervention and admission to Sakthi Vidiyal Shelter Home through the CWC.

Counselling revealed a mild mental disorder, later clinically confirmed and treated with medication. With therapeutic support, he showed notable improvement and now continues his rehabilitation and education in another child care institution.

At Vidiyal, children are supported through individual and group counselling that help them face challenges, make wise decisions, and grow with confidence. Group sessions addressed themes such as respectful communication, behaviour change, regular attendance, dangers of substance abuse, value of education, managing risks, taking responsibility, setting goals, and nurturing positive relationships.

NGO steers kids toward books with 'bus' library

Open to all, it houses material from puzzles to autobiographies.

Sukhdev.H@timesofindia.com

Set up inside a school bus, this unusual library, launched by Sakthi - Vidiyal, gives children a chance to read and learn while having a feeling of 'travelling' in a bus with friends.

"The idea for the library came to me from a Japanese children's story 'Totto-Chan: The Little Girl at the Window', authored by Tetsuko Kuroyanagi," says C Jim Jesudoss, executive director of the NGO. "This particular story speaks of unconventional schooling that children during the second world war underwent. Since it was difficult to run schools during war, classrooms had been set up in old railway coaches. It was fascinating." The bus library with bus seats as chairs, houses about 300 books. It is set up on the Sakthi-Vidiyal campus at Marupatti in Madurai, a centre for children from underprivileged backgrounds.

"We had a school bus which was worn down and unfit for use. It took a while and some extra labour but finally we were able to establish and open the bus library. Children from underprivileged backgrounds often don't have the luxury of buying books to read in leisure. So such a library is a boon to them. It is also a good way to grab their attention away from smart phones and encourage reading habits," he says.

The bus library has a variety of books for children from Class I to Class X, including story books, autobiographies, books with puzzles, riddles, or comic pictures for some of the much student of a govt school was excited to use the bus library. "Sitting in the driver's seat with the steering wheel in my hand gave me the feeling that I was driving a bus while reading a book," he says.

A Thodi, a Class VI student of a co-education school says the bus library with bus seats and tables inside makes it more comfortable for readers. "It really feels like I'm travelling in a bus when I'm inside this reading. Also though at school I can go to the library to read, here there is more freedom and I can also pick any book I like," she says.

The bus library can accommodate about 25 children at a time. "The library is open to all kids in the neighbourhood. Our children will be using it regularly but perhaps slowly it may be developed further and more kids may join," says Jesudoss.

Madurai: Around 250 children from underprivileged backgrounds showcased their creativity in the Tamil language at 'Tamil Kondattam,' a cultural fest held in Madurai on Sunday.

Organized by the Vidiyal Child Rights Movement, the event featured a variety of competitions for children aged 5-17, including speech ling. Dr C Jim Jesudoss, executive director of Sakthi - Vidiyal, Madurai, emphasized the importance of language learning as a fundamental right for all children, as recognized by the United Nations. "Language is crucial for communication, and when children learn to express themselves, their voices can be heard. In Madurai, the land of Tamil, it's essential for kids to understand their language and cul-

500 kids take part in child rights festival

TIMES NEWS NETWORK

Madurai: Around 500 children from slums and villages took part in a child rights festival organised in Madurai on Sunday to commemorate International Child Rights Day. Various games and fun activities were organised to create awareness and highlight the importance of children standing up for their rights.

Activist Thulir inaugurated the programme by children of Vidiyal Child Rights Movement, an organisation facilitated by Sakthi - Vidiyal. The festival saw participants engage in discussions on child rights through a range of games and competitions such as storytelling, slogan writing, and drama. Children were taught about the child rights through the snakes and ladders game, which showcased issues faced by children such as child abuse and bullying while highlighting positives like children getting education and supporting each other.

"We aim to enable people understand child rights in everyday life, to educate children on their rights, and to empower them to defend their rights, as every child has a right to a happy childhood," said C Jim Jesudoss, executive director of Sakthi - Vidiyal.

"Empowering the children to make decisions and develop organisational skills is important to help them grow as individuals. So, we let them conduct the event," added Jesudoss.

WE THANK OUR PARTNERS IN DEVELOPMENT

New Dawn India has partnered with us and have been supporting our cause for the past three decades. We thank and recognise their continued support and encouragement provided by our sponsors, well-wishers, and trustees. Our shared values, mutual trust, and commitment for Child Rights enables us to go from strength to strength in achieving greater things. Together, we are making a difference in the lives of children from socially excluded communities and varied disadvantaged backgrounds.

We gratefully acknowledge Dasra's Rebuild India Fund, which strengthens vulnerable communities across India by providing flexible funding and need-based capacity-building support.

Azim Premji
Foundation

We gratefully acknowledge the Azim Premji Foundation for partnering with us in taking our model to 12 rural communities through the project Child Participation for Child Rights Protection. This collaboration has strengthened children's voices and advanced the cause of child rights in these communities.

The Reception Home, established under the Juvenile Justice (Care and Protection of Children) Act, is supported by the Department of Child Welfare and Special Services, Government of Tamil Nadu.

INSTITUTIONAL DONORS

Sakthi Foundation has been a pillar of support through the Handful of Rice scheme, where every household in a gated community lovingly sets aside a handful of rice before cooking each meal for Vidiyal children. This simple yet powerful act of sharing has, for over two decades, ensured that our children's rice needs are met.

Our journey is made possible through the collective strength of our community of supporters. This year, 1,497 individuals, families, associations, and institutions came forward with generous contributions in cash, kind, and services, sustaining our mission in meaningful ways. We are deeply grateful to our donors, well-wishers, partners, media, and government officials for their steadfast encouragement. We also extend heartfelt thanks to our dedicated staff, volunteers, alumni, and parents for their unwavering commitment.

Above all, we acknowledge our children, whose resilience and spirit continue to inspire us to carry this mission forward with renewed energy.
